Pauktuutit's Mandate

Pauktuutit is the national representative organization of Inuit women in Canada. We foster greater awareness of the needs of Inuit women, advocate for equality and social improvements, and encourage the full participation of Inuit women in their communities, regions and the national life of Canada.

Vision

• Inuit women and families in safe, affordable and culturally relevant housing;
• every Inuit community to be able to respond to crisis and violence;
• happy, safe and healthy Inuit communities;
• Inuit women engaged at every political table that impacts them by building on relationships with government, other organizations, and communities;
• enhancing our youth advocacy;
• investing in childcare;
• showcasing Inuit women as proud and empowered;
• promoting and supporting Inuit women whether they live in urban centres or in Inuit Nunangat; and
• Inuit women in positions of leadership in both private and public sectors.

Residential Schools

Virtual Quilt

The ‘virtual quilt’ is designed to give voice and expression to Inuit women’s unique experiences and lasting impacts of Residential Schools as a national Residential Schools commemoration initiative.

Virtual Quilt the Movie

A Community Story

Pauktuutit in partnership with BluePrintForLife and the community of Kugaaruk, Nunavut, delivered a five-day intensive workshop that focused on Inuit adult survivors of Residential Schools and the intergenerational impacts of Residential Schools. The parallel streams of workshops were for adults and elders, ran by Pauktuutit, and for youth ages 14-21, run by BluePrintForLife. Both groups met together for the last two days.

Taimainnut: An Introduction to Basic Counselling Skills

This booklet does not replace training and education. Rather, we hope it will assist women and men of all ages who find themselves involved in the lives of friends and family and who sometimes wish they had guidance in dealing with the problems that inevitably arise.

Sexual Health

Tavva: National Inuit Sexual Health Strategy

The goal of Tavva is to advocate for meaningful Inuit involvement in the design, delivery and evaluation of culturally and linguistically appropriate awareness campaigns, community actions, prevention programs and health services that enable all Inuit to be sexually healthy throughout their lives.

Ikajurniq: An Inuit Cascade of Care Framework for Sexually Transmitted & Blood Borne Infections

Ikajurniq – meaning “the act of helping” – is an Inuit-specific STBBI cascade of care that builds on the best practices in prevention and treatment of STBBIs in Canada. It recognizes both the particular challenges and the known enables in reaching, testing and treating Inuit with STBBIs in Northern communities. The Inuit sexual health network believes that the cascades of care model can and should be applied in Inuit communities. By reaching and retaining more Inuit in the testing/diagnosis/treatment cycle, the burden of all STBBIs, including bacterial STBBIs, can be significantly reduced.

Inuusinni Aqqusaaqtara – My Journey

My Journey has easy-to-read cancer information in English and regional dialects of Inuktitut for people with cancer, their caregivers and healthcare professionals. It gives information to people recently diagnosed with cancer to support them through their cancer journey. It is written especially for Inuit to understand cancer better and to make informed decisions. It will also help Inuit and healthcare professionals communicate with each other. The goal is to support Inuit people with cancer and improve their quality of life.

Urban Inuit Women

Understanding the Needs of Urban Inuit Women

This research report analyzes why Inuit women move to urban areas from Inuit Nunangat, in addition to identifying the gaps in culturally-relevant services. Accompanying the research report are infographics which outline the 'push and pull' factors relating to the movement of Inuit women to urban areas, as well as urban-specific demographics (all major urban areas are included).
